

Understanding Opta data feeds

Opta offer a wide variety of data feeds, and these are split into three different tiers, depending on the level of detail. These tiers are Core, Classic and Performance.

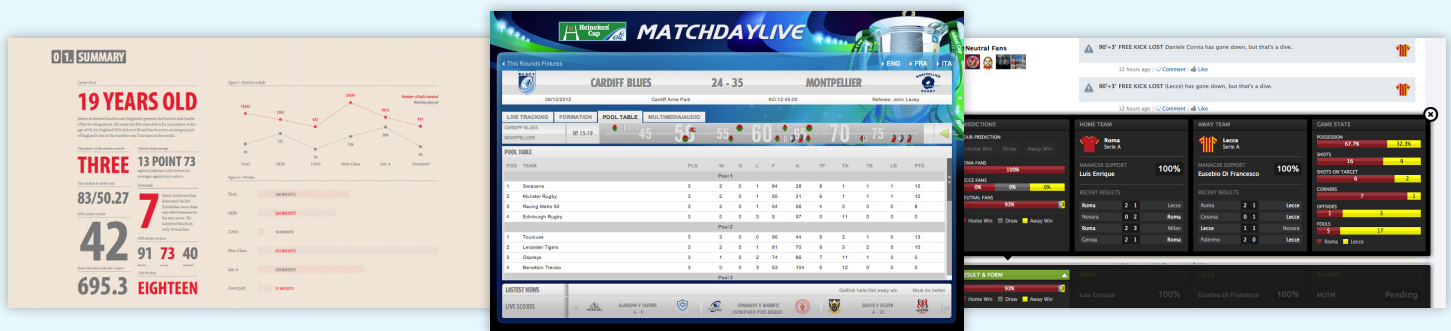

About Opta's Classic Data feeds

Opta's Classic Data feeds offer detailed live statistics from a wide range of global sports. This data offers live statistics split by player and team as well as a selection of cumulative and aggregated information. These feeds are ideal for powering a wide variety of online destinations, mobile applications and second screen experiences.

By providing the largest variety of delivery methods available, Opta's Classic Data feeds offer maximum flexibility and convenience.

Opta's Classic Data feeds include information such as:

- Live stats by player and team. For example, in football these include shots (on/off target), passes (successful/unsuccessful), tackles (successful/unsuccessful), duels (won/lost), saves and dribbles.
- Season-to-date cumulative stats.
- Text commentaries.
- Historical data sets.
