Understanding Opta data feeds

Opta offer a wide variety of data feeds, and these are split into three different tiers, depending on the level of detail. These tiers are Core, Classic and Performance.

About Opta data feeds

Opta's range of data feeds are the quickest and most flexible way of getting Opta content straight to your website or app. Our feeds are split into three main categories:

- Core Data feeds - contain basic match data from a wide variety of competitions across the world.
- Classic Data feeds - more detailed statistical data and aggregated stats.
- Performance Data feeds - the most detailed level of live data available anywhere, containing x,y coordinates and timestamps.

- Hundreds of competitions covered.
- Text commentaries.
- Positional information, including x,y coordinates and time-stamps of every on-ball action.
- Season-to-date cumulative stats.
- Historical data sets.

The type of feeds we can provide include:

- Fixtures & results.
- Line-ups, league tables and live scores.
- Live stats by player and team, including:
 - shots (on/off target, outcome, inside/outside area).
 - passes (long/short, successful/unsuccessful, zone).
 - assists, through balls and key passes.
 - tackles and duels (successful/unsuccessful).
 - clearances, blocks and interceptions.
 - saves and goalkeeper actions.
 - fouls and foul type.
